

I hope and will see for myself. Let some of these crascals who write so glibly take you and check you for themselves as I have done on mountain
top and low land
by lake and stream
and they would (if they survived) the ordeal) come back wiser men.

Yours very faithfully
R. Kearton

Roreham Wood
Elstree, Herts
March 19/96

My Dear Sir

I have asked Messrs Casells to send you a copy of my book on birds' nests for review in the Torquay Times and should much like to see what you say.

about it. I have found your books of great service to me
and was glad to have an opportunity of reviewing your magnificent work on migration in the National Observer a while back. I was pleased to have the opportunity of doing so because you have had such scant justice

shown you on so many occasions by British-Museum-arm-Chair naturalist-
critics -

I have been "gone for" because I have dared to include a reference to your St Kilda Wren in my book, however,
I'm going to S.K. before
I am much older